FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear Parents/Carers,

What an interesting start we had to the week this week! We were pleased to see all of the students back at school on Wednesday, sharing their experiences of living without power and electricity for several days. We hope that all our families were safe throughout this time.

The Department has released new updated resources to support educators and care providers all in keeping children and young people safe. Together we help children and young people develop the skills for safe and respectful relationships. These new resources are based from feedback, and outline the requirements for prevention of sexual harm and responding to sexual behaviour immediately and in the in the short term. The new procedure makes it clearer when sexual behaviour incidents must be reported to the Child Abuse Report line and /or South Australia Police. The new guidelines also provide additional information, best practice and considerations and resources to support medium or longer term responses as well as information for educators and care providers for them on how to appropriately respond to critical incidents, manage risk, support children and young children people's healthy sexual development and maintain safe learning and care environments. A brochure is available for all parents/carers and will be provided to your child to bring home to you and available from the front Office. If you have any questions about the procedure, guideline or resources contact the department's Engagement and Wellbeing Directorate via education.engagementandwellbeing@sa.gov.au

Simon Wilson, our ACEO, is planning to work with the ATSI students on their project of South Australian Aboriginal place names. The students from both Thiele and Braeview have researched place names and what they mean, what language group they belong to and why the name is so important to the local people. After the students have chosen a place name they have to paint their perception of it on to canvas. These pictures will then showcase their artwork and knowledge at our Indigenous Art Exhibition in Week 8. This will bring students, parents, carers, families and Education staff together for a great night of learning and admiration.

On Tuesday, Bella and Jake were invited to participate in the Department for Education Public Education Student Forum at the Adelaide Convention Centre with myself to discuss and provide feedback on student wellbeing, student agency, the curriculum and preparing for life after school. This was the first of 8 forums being held around the state of South Australia to start conversations about the purpose of public education and to hear from students about what they currently value. The information from the student responses will be collected and will provide feedback to the wider consultation in 2023 to help create a renewed purpose statement, set guiding principles and measures of performance as a public education system to help shape education in the future. Feedback is important because it makes us think, provides the next steps for us to take, helps us stop and think about how we can make it better, and research shows that comments only feedback is more important than grades! Both Bella and Jake enjoyed the day and felt proud to be invited to have their say.

Your feedback is important to us.

Kind regards,

Sharon
